LEES-McRAE COLLEGE  1982

Accordance: agreement; harmony: conformity; an agreeing; a granting.

Lees-McRae College has a many-faceted environment. As the cover of the 1982 Ontaroga and the division pages indicate the almost computerized, calibrated scale of the life at Lees.McRae, I won't attempt to bore you with unnecessary verbosity in prose. As the "Oracle of Banner Elk," everyone knows that I can wax eloquently and write volumes among these pages. Instead, I will prove that the age-old axiom, "a picture is worth a thousand words," is true. And, if you don't believe it, continue to turn the pages and see for yourself. Lees-McRae is unique and by captur. ing the excitement and the beauty on this campus, the dedication and purpose of its people, through the wonder of pictures, and the miracle of print, the Staff of the 1982 Ontaroga will attempt to record another great year in the life of the "Campus in the Clouds."

Our dauntless, fearless editor, Jamie Francis, climbed aboard this U.S. Army Malibu cargo aircraft to take these spectacular aerial shots while the "Golden Knights" were performing their skydiving feats.

Rustic stone buildings in a setting of breathtaking splendor describe Lees-McRae, and friendiness among the students, faculty and staff is the keynote at the "Campus in the Clouds." Total strangers will agree it is impossible to walk across the campus without someone speaking. It must be the pride of being in the Elk.

The climate at Lees-McRae is as changing and variable and invigorating as the atmosphere that prevails on the LMC campus. Students and faculty are involied in whirlwind activities the year around.

John Williams Physical Education Center is the den of the Bobcats and the hub of student recreational activities.

Janes H. Carson Library is the center of study and research on campus for the Lees-McRae student. Wildcat Lake affords a scenic setting for pienics, swimming and just relaxing in the dandelions. Classroom and sports take up much of your time.

ONTAROGA-82

Dr. H.C. Evans, Jr President

Dr. Evans, President of Lees-McRae College for the past 15 years, is in demand as a speaker and is an active leader in community, civic, state, national and church affairs. He received his B. A. degree from CarsonNewman College, his M.A. from Columbia University and his Doctorate of Education from the University of Tennessee with additional study at the University of Colorado and Lafayette College.

Dr. Evans congratulates Homecoming Queen Paige Kearson

An energetic and flamboyant president, Evans delights in hosting the Earl Owensby Film Festival and acknowledging the North Carolina filmmaker.

Department heads directly responsible to the President are Carlisle Hostetter, Athletic Director; Dr. Janet Carroll, Director of Performing Arts; and Phil Evaul (no picture available), Assistant to the President. Lower right, Secretary to the President, Pat Bentley; and Secretary to the Atheltic Director and coaching staff, Margaret Smith.

He is equally as comfortable in presenting awards to individuals as well as humbly accepting honors from well-known personalities and proudly receiving trophies from students.

William B. Watterson, Chairman, Composition and Literature; A.A., Gardner-Webb College; B.S., M.A., Appalachian State University

DIVISION OF LANGUAGES, LITERATURE, AND FINE ARTS

Donald R. Baker, Art; A.A., Lees-McRae College; A.B., East Tennessee State University.

Janet Carroll, Music, Drama and Speech; B.S., M.A., Southwest Texas State University; Ph.D., Louisiana State Universlty.

The aim of the division is to give students competency in written and oral composition and to aid them in the interpretation, understanding, and appreciation of literature and the fine arts. Art and music have been areas through which man has expressed himself since the beginning of time. The history of art is involved with the history of ideas; the desire to make a form, as well as to illustrate an idea, reveals personal, social, and philosophic values, interests, and attitudes throughout the course of history. The courses in music aim to enlighten the student by three procedures: first, by exposing him to the technical knowiedge which forms the foundation for further musical study; second, by helping him to develop proficiency in his specialized field of applied music; third, by endeavoring to instill in him a genuine appreciation for all types of music through a study of its history, its composers, and its form. A study of art and music thus becomes a means of communication, self-expression and understanding.

THE DIVISION OF SOCIAL SCIENCES

The social sciences are those areas of knowledge dealing with man and society in the development of civilization. They are disciplines which are concerned with the relationships of human beings with each other and with their natural environment. The social sciences present the story of human affairs from the past to present times. The social sciences have a definite relationship for the individual to the development, structure, and functioning of society. The subject matter of the social sciences can be analyzed and used in understanding trends, solving problems, and revealing the past as a means toward better understanding of the present. An understanding of the social sciences gives one a broader knowledge and a more complete picture of the development of civilization. The core of civilization is people and the social sciences place emphasis upon people and the world in which they live. The art of effective living can be achieved through an understanding of the social sciences.

The study of natural sciences seeks to develop in the student an understanding and appreciation of scientific attitudes and methods by means of (1) the acquisition of a considerable body of scientific data, and (2) orientation in the proper interpretation and application of these data. Studies in Mathematics and Graphics offer the student an opportunity to expand elementary skills and update past experiences in the world of numbers and symbols. Greater achievements are attained as the mind applies newly found knowledge to areas of personal interest, and logic becomes a way of thinking.

Classes designed to provide essential skills for successful college work are offered both in the academic year and in the summer program, the Basic Study Skills Laboratory. The emphasis in these courses is upon the individual development of each student.

The Division of Developmental Studies provides several special programs designed to provide extra-class and in-class help to students with academic problems. The division is staffed by both degree holding instructors and superior students. The division attempts to discover why a student has problems, and then to help him solve those problems through building good study habits, planning his time, and tutoring in particular subject areas.

The Powder Creek quilting ladies from Mills River were recog. nized at Lees-McRae with a luncheon and ceremony following entertainment provided by the LMC Singers, Cloggers and Bluegrass Band.

After remarks by Bill Farthing, Vice President for Development, Dr. Evans acknowledged Mrs. Wilsie Nesbitt, long-time friend of the college and a member of the Board of Advisors. In Dr. Evans' remarks, he pointed out that many colleges have writers-in-residence and illustrated that "Pek" Gunn, poet laureate of Tennessee, was the poet-in-residence at Lees-McRae, "and today we recognize probably the first and only personality in the category of Quilter-in-Residence." He presented Mrs. Nesbitt with a handlettered plaque which was inscribed: "To Wilsie Nesbitt, designated as Lees-McRae College's only Quilter-in-Residence."

'HOMECOMING 1981

Distinguished alumnus Elbert L. Peters, Jr, Commissioner, North Carolina Division of Motor Vehicles, Department of Trans. portation, was the marshal for the 15th annual Homecoming parade at Lees-McRae College Saturday, October 3rd. The largest parade ever scheduled meandered its way from the Williams Phys. ical Education Center parking lot through downtown Banner Elk and dispersed on the Lees-McRae campus. Virginia Dorm won the dorm decoration first place. Float winners were: Circle K, first place, Roadrunners, second place, and Phi Theta Kappa, third place.

Members of the world record holding U.S. Army Parachute Team, touched down at Tate Field. They brought with them the game ball for the Homecoming contest between Lees-McRae and Nassau. Having captured five additional world records from the Soviet Union last year, boosting their total to 12, the "Golden Knights" are continuing their demonstration performances throughout the world. In their 21 years of existence, the team has performed more than 3,000 demonstrations in all 50 states and 31 foreign countries before more than 115 million spectators.

PERFORMING ARTS

The Lees-McRae Performing Arts Department offers performance opportunities to students who need and enjoy the presentation side of performing arts. Performance areas are: the Highlanders, an eight member show ensemble group; the stage band; the blue grass band: the cloggers, and the theatre department. All of these areas can be seen in action throughout the year at Lees-McRae College, in the community, and on tour of the southeastern United States.

This year's spring tour scheduled stops across North Caroli na, including Rocky Mount, Greensboro, Durham, Ronda, Wilson, Tarboro, Farmville and Atlantic Beach, with performances before churches, high schools and civic groups.

The LMC chorus is one of the oldest organizations on campus, beginning with the first college choirs in the 1930s and '40s. The college later organized the Wee Quier in 1959 and the Highlanders was organized in 1971.
The traditional Christmas program was once again performed by the Lees-McRae band, singers, Highlanders, cloggers, and blue grass band under the direction of Dr. Janet Carroll, Director of Performing Arts, assisted by music director, Ms. Nickie Spinks.

Spring Fling 109

SPRING FLING

The gala Spring Fling of 1981-82 was launched with the tug-of-war, the famous three.legged race, and plenty of challenging matches in trying to wrestle the bubble gum from the bowl of flour as an appetizer to the pienic on the grounds of Tate lawn. The great tobacco spitting contest had many experts on hand to compete, as well as the serious contemplation and deliberation in stacking the teacups and saucers for the cup and saucer race. The great 50 -yard dash with a stack of teacups showed the victors and the vanquished. And what would a Spring Fling be without the famous egg toss. All of this and many other challenging contests kept the students busy for an afternoon.

PHOTO CLUB

The main purpose of the Photography Club is to stimulate an awareness of and interest in photography. A secondary purpose is to share with other photographers the wealth of knowledge that can only be gained through intra-personal relationships of this sort. The club has its own darkroom, provides campus-wide photography contests and sponsors photo projects. It also assists in helping beginners understand their cameras and aids them in developing and printing pictures. The club seeks to stimulate interest in the non-photographer and lend creativity to the "expert." Many of the pictures aid the school in press releases and the yearbook.

Minneapolis, Minnesota was the site for the 64 th annual Phi Theta Kappa National Convention. Representing Lees-McRae College, seventeen members and sponsors of the Beta Tau Chapter attended and returned with several awards, including the election of Miss Lynn Plimpton as National President. This was a great honor because Lynn was the first woman to be elected national president since 1941.

Miss Plimpton's campaign was structured around the slogan, "Lynn's Leprechauns," As a promotional boost to her campaign, General Mills donated approximately 1500 small boxes of "Lucky Charms" cereal. With General Mills situated in Minneapolis, Bela Tau was invited for an interesting tour of the Betty Crocker Test Kitchens and General Offices.

At the convention's awards program. Lees-McRae's chapter was one of five Mosal Invitational Award winners in the yearbook competition. Its yearbook will be displayed at the National Office in Canton, Mississippi for one year. This award comes as a direct result from the efforts of Beta Tau's historian. Dana Forsythe.
Miss Rozanne Papuga, a sophomore form Morganton, was the recipient of the FAU Scholarship. This scholarship will cover her two remaining years in undergraduate school at Florida Atlantic University in Boca Raton, Florida.

Film makers Hugh Morton (documentaries) and Earl Owensby (EO Productions) pose with Dr. H.C. Evans. Morton was among twenty guests of honor for a luncheon honoring Owensby at Lees-McRae.

Following a luncheon honoring Earl Owensby, producer and star of motion pictures based in Shelby, North Carolina, Student Government Association President John Cates presented Owensby with a "Lifetime Bobcat Award" at a special College Program.

N.C. FILM STAR HONORED AT LEES-McRAE EARL OWENSBY FILM FESTIVAL

Lees-McRae honored North Carolina's own film star, producer and studio owner, Earl Owensby. A three-week film festival featuring some of Owensby's best productions was culminated with a luncheon honoring the star and producer from Shelby.

Earl Owensby Productions is the largest movie production organization east of the Mississippi. His twenty films are seen throughout the U.S. and 92 countries. The film festival included showing of "Dark Sunday," "Buckstone County Prison," and "The Living Legend"

In addition to these films and following the luncheon Owensby addressed the Lees-McRae student body speaking about his experiences and his studio in Shelby. Probably one of his best films,
"The Living Legend," co-starring Ginger Alden, who was Elvis Presley's fiancee, prompted Lees-McRae to present Owensby with a handpainted parchment plaque inscribed: "Living Legend Award to Earl Owensby in recognition of his many films, most notably 'The Living Legend,' Lees-McRae College acknowledges him as a true legend in his own time."

At the special college program following the luncheon Owensby was presented with a "Lifetime Bobcat" award by Student Body President John Cates. Following Owensby's hour-long question and answer period he was treated to a standing ovation until he left the stage to sign autographs and mingle with the Lees-McRae students.

FINISH 4-6: THE SEASON THAT GOT AWAY

Paul Johnson, Jim Crowder, Leland Riddle, Head Coach Clyde "Soupy" Campbell, Don Dunn, Gayland Welborn.

Hunter Jenkins scores touchdown for the Bobcats in early game with Western Carolina. Jenkins' injury in mid-season hurt the Bobcat offensive attack, but Reggie Lassiter (34) took up the slack as he leads block for All-American Andy Kilgore.

All football teams should expect their fair share of the inevitable last second loss - the one that got away - and plain 'ole hard luck. But the 1981 edition of Lees.McRae's Green & Gold gridders suffered through enough heartbreaking defeats to last a lifetime, posting a disappointing 4.6 worksheet.
The Bobcats fell victim to last second losses on two occasions as the ASU JVs used an impressive air show to deal Lees-McRae a 19.18 decision in the waning moments of the season opener in Boone. The Bobcats closed the year just as it had begun as East Carolina's JVs nailed a 45 yard field goal with eleven seconds to salvage a 28.27 victory.

The first of three games that simply slipped away was an encounter with the 11 th ranked Nassau Lions. Lees-McRae achieved a 27.7 halftime advantage only to have the Lions roar back, rack up 35 points in less than 30 minutes and spoil the Bobcat homecoming, 43.34. The inability to hold a lead continued to plague the 'Cats as they exploded for 12 quick points at Chowan the following week, went stone cold, and lost 33.27. Potomac State also came from behind, with the aid of three fumbles inside the Bobcat three, to hand Lees.McRae a 25.13 verdict at Keyser, West Virginia.
Although the Bobcats came up short in the win column they did achieve several individual milestones. The young 'Cats, who start ed as many as 16 freshmen in some games, can boast the Coastal Conference leading offense as they averaged 369 yards per outing. Much of this offensive punch must be attributed to the Bobcat trenchmen, Todd Shook, Chuck Okey, Buddy Beauchamp and Larry Spears who produced the league's leading passer and rusher in Earl Clinton and Andy Kilgore, respectively

Clinton completed 73 of 153 passes for 1277 yards and 11 TDs while rushing for 511 yards to lead the conference in total offense with 1777 yards. Clinton's best performance came against Westchester as he completed 13 of 19 passes for 278 yards and two TDs, breaking a school record for passing percentage.

Clinton's favorite targets in the Bobcat aerial show were Mike Mears and Bob Ball who ended the year deadlocked for most receptions and led the conference with 28 each. Mears tallied 641 yards averaging 22.9 yards per catch and hauled down 5 TDs. Ball had 415 yards, 3 TDs and a 15.0 yard per catch average.

Kilgore came the closest to rewriting the record books as anyone in recent history as he garnered 1458 yards in 239 attempts averaging 6.1 yards per carry and scoring ten touchdowns. Kilgore established new single game and single season rushing totals for Lees-McRae and also eclipsed the Coastal Conference rushing record with his steady performance that led to nine straight 100 . yard plus games. Kilgore's season high came at Western Carolina as he rushed for 276 yards in 32 attempts and scored two touch downs in breaking the Bobcat single game rushing mark

Mike Seamens, Reggie Lassiter, Ed Varnes and Hunter Jenkins did a yeoman's job as blocking backs to spring Kilgore and collected 305 yards in the process.

Tony Campagna and Glenn McClary led Lees-McRae in kickoff returns as Campagna returned five for 140 yards and a 28 -yard average and McClary had nine for 184 yards and a 20 yard average. Punt return chores were shared by Cliff Jones, who returned 11 for 88 yards and an 8 yard average, and Jim Casto who had four for 108 yards and a 27 yard average.
Defensively, Lees-McRae was dominated by inexperience, starting as many as ten freshmen at times. But this strategy should bear fruit next year as the Bobcats will be blessed with depth at all positions. The 'Cats were forced to give freshmen the nod as injuries were sustained by several Bobcat regulars. Tim Greene and Kent Williams are just two examples as both suffered broken ankles and sat out five weeks, but still returned to contribute as Greene posted 33 tackles, two interceptions and six broken up passes while Williams chalked by 56 tackles and two quarterback sacks.

Tony Sweeney paced the front four with 91 tackles, four interceptions, and 14 broken up passes. Phillip McCall led the lineback er corps with 81 tackles, one interception, three fumble recoveries, two broken up passes and two QB sacks. Other defensive stand outs included Darrell Maxwell, 57 tackles; Cliff Jones and Joe Swinford with 50 each; Mark Dobbins, 47; and Mike Shawver, 45.

ANDY KILGORE NAMED NJCAA ALL-AMERICAN
Andy Kilgore, a sophomore at Lees-McRae, and a Wise, Virginia product, was named to the NJCAA first team All-American.

Kilgore, who was named "Back of the Year" in Region X, NJCAA, was named to the same honor at the Coastal Conference coaches meeting, when they named the Bobcat running back "Player of the Year" in the Coastal Conference.

Kilgore was named earlier to the second team J.C. Gridwire All-American. J.C Gridwire is an agency out of California and is predominately influenced by the California and western junior colleges.

At the annual sports banquet held at Lees-McRae College, Kilgore was recognized for these honors as well as receiving the game football with which he established a new Coastal Conference record, and a new Lees-McRae school record in rushing yardage for one season. He rolled up 1,458 yards in 239 carries for a 6.1 average per carry. Kilgore had nine consecutive games of over 100 yards rushing. In his first game, against the Appalachian JVs , he rushed for 99 yards, missing a new school record of ten consecutive games with 100 yards or better, by one yard

LAST SECOND TD NIPS BOBCATS, 19.18

Lees-McRae's inability to convert extra points and a rash of penalties in the final minute of the game spelled doom for the Bobcats as the Appalachian State University JV's came from behind to take a 19-18 victory in Conrad Stadium at Boone. The seesaw battle saw Lees-McRae take a 7-3 lead on Earl Clinton's one-yard run. That TD was set up by a $45-$ yard run by quarterback Clinton. Lees-McRae increased the lead to a 12 3 on a 56 -yard pass from Clinton to wide receiver Bob Ball. ASU kicked a 35 -yard field goal to go to the dressing room at halftime down, 12.6. In the third quarter, the Apps came back with a touchdown to go ahead, 13-12.

BOBCATS STUN FORT BRAGG, 14-10

Earl Clinton heaved a 35 -yard pass to Mark Webber with : 39 seconds left to give Lees.McRae a 14.10 victory. Bobcat turnovers and penalties were costly as four fumbles and two pass interceptions constantly halted Bobcat drives and set up Fort Bragg scoring opportunities. But fortunately the Dragons ran up against a stout Bobcat defensive wall spearheaded by Phillip McCall's 21 tackles, Mark Dobbins' 15, Kent Williams' 13, and Tim Beelers' 11 .

LEES-McRAE TAMES CATAMOUNTS, 35.14

Head Coach Soupy Campbell used his reserves in a $35-14$ romp past Western Carolina University JV's. Hunter Jenkins started the scoring parade with a one-yard plunge and added the final TD of the day on a tenyard run. Andy Kilgore, who picked up 126 yards rushing for the day, scored on a 25 yard scamper. Earl Clinton scored from ten yards out and passed for 61 yards to tight end Mike Mears for the other Bobcat score. Phillip McCall racked up 10 tackles and a QB sack, Chip Osborne 8 tackles and an interception, and Tony Sweeney 7 tackles and a QB sack to spearhead defensive play.

LM SQUANDERS LEAD, LOSES 42.34

Lees-McRae squandered a 27.7 halftime lead and was overwhelmed 42.34 by an explosive second half Nassau surge. Nationally ranked Nassau grabbed the lead with a 22 -point fourth quarter effort highlighted by a blocked field goal returned 79 yards for a TD that would have put Lees-McRae ahead 37.35. Lees-McRae got scores from Mike Seamens, Reggie Lassiter, and Hunter Jenkins on the ground and passes from Earl Clinton to Mike Mears and Scott Pearson for tallies via the air.

Lees-McRae capped a 49-yard drive to take the lead at $18-13$ on a 9 yard pass from Clinton to wide receiver Mark Webber. But in the final $1: 25$, ASU used nine plays to march 79 yards with the assistance of three penalties for 47 yards in the drive. All three penalties (two pass) interferences and one roughing penalty) were automatic first downs. With : 22 seconds remaining, quarterback Greg Sasser hit wide receiver Alonzo Treble in the endzone to nip the Bobcats, 19-18.

MISCUES COSTLY, BRAVES BOOT BOBCATS 33.27
Lees-McRae miscues, penalties and an accurate Chowan kicker spelled doomsday for the Bobcats at Chown's homecoming as the Braves came from behind a $12-0$ first quarter deficit to take a $20-12$ halftime lead. The Braves increased that lead to $30 \cdot 12$ before Lees-McRae scored and converted a two-point pass play to pull within $30-20$. Chowan added another field goal to take a 33.20 advantage going into the final minutes of the fourth period. The Bobcats scored on a one yard run by Andy Kilgore with 3:56 left, but the Braves dominated the last four minutes of play without turning the ball over to LM and protected their lead to save the victory.

LEES-McRAE BURIES WCU JVs, 42.7
Running back Andy Kilgore rushed for a school record, 275 yards, while scoring two touchdowns to lead Lees-McRae to a 42.7 rout of the Western Carolina University junior varsity. Kilgore, who accumulated his total in 32 attempts, broke the Bobcat mark of 273 yards set in 1975 by Wardell Johnson against Baltimore Community College. The Bobcats set another school record of 431 yards on the ground. A three yard run by Hunter Jenkins, a two-yard burst by Kilgore and a four-yard scamper by Earl Clinton with a two point conversion from Clinton to Kilgore gave the Bobcats a 21.7 halftime advantage. The Bobcats used three of five interceptions (by Steve Hensley, Darrell Stinson, Donnie Davis, John Turley, and Phillip McCall) to set up scores, adding second half scores on a two-yard run by sub-quarterback Tim Phillips' four-yard toss to Bob Ball Campbell cleared his bench in the third and fourth periods and used four quarterbacks during the contest.

FERRUM FLOGS CATS, 28-0

Ferrum handed the Bobcats their only shutout and most humiliating defeat of the season using a fierce and flawless ground attack to flog Lees McRae, 28-0. Ferrum had two long drives, one scored from the one-yard line and Monzel Jefferson took it in from the eight-yard line. The Bobcats, who had four costly turnovers, saw one fumble recovery set up Jefferson's next TD and defensive end Lynn Conner intercepted an Earl Clinton pass and lumbered 31 yards to paydirt for the final tally. Although the Panthers kept the high-powered Lees-McRae offense off the board, they were unable to find a handle on LM's premier running back, Andy Kilgore, who rushed for 153 yards.

BOBCAT RALLY DEFEATS WESTCHESTER, 20-17
Westchester led Lees.McRae 17.13 going into the final period before Andy Kilgore scored from seven yards out and Mike Seamen's kick gave the Bobcats the winning edge. Westchester had scored on runs of Ray Rhodes' seven yards, Harry Munn's one-yard plunge, and Dan Fontana's 31 -yard field goal. Earl Clinton, who set a school record of 278 yards passing, hit Mike Mears on a 71 -yarder for a TD and found Bob Ball on a 14 yard TD pass. Andy Kilgore rushed 30 times for 137 yards, spearheading the Bobcat ground offensive attack, as he broke the mythical 1000-yard marker, with 1,128 in eight games.

BOBCATS STUMBLE AGAIN, LOSE 25.13
Lees-McRae was enjoying a 13-12 lead over Potomac State until a comedy of errors erupted in the final five minutes of the contest to give the host Catamounts two easy touchdowns and a 25.13 win. The fiasco began as Bobcat defensive back Cliff Jones fielded a short 28 -yard field goal attempt by the Catamounts and downed it on the one-yard line. Two plays later, Lees-McRae fumbled and Potomac State recovered to set up their go-ahead touchdown at 18.13. Another fumble inside the Bobcats' two yard line, after the ensuing kickoff, gave Potomac State the ball on the three. A five-yard penalty moved the Catamounts back to the eight. Four plays netted the 'Cats only seven yards where they gave up the ball to a staunch Lees-McRae defense on the one. But an Earl Clinton deflected pass was picked off by DB Langdon Sills and returned to the five. Three plays later, QB Tim Hoover crossed over to ice the victory. All.American Andy Kilgore posted two touchdowns and 212 yards in the losing effort

PIRATES SLIP PAST L-M, 28.27
Kurt Larkins nailed a 45 -yard field goal with : 11 seconds left in the game to lift the East Carolina University JVs to a thrilling $28-27$ victory over Lees.McRae. The victory overshadowed the record-setting performance by sophomore running back Andy Kilgore, who rushed for a game-high 118 yards on 22 carries. That gave Kilgore a total for the season of 1,458 yards and broke the school record held by Wardel Johnson, as well as the Coastal Conference record of 1,373 set by Mike Lacika of Baltimore in 1973. Kilgore, who finished the season with nine consecutive 100 -yard plus performances, scored the Bobcats' first TD on a three-yard run in the first quarter. Lees-McRae erupted for 20 more points in the last five minutes to lead 27.19 at intermission. Quarterback Earl Clinton hit tight end Mike Mears on touchdown bombs of 56 and 53 yards and Kilgore added another TD on a six-yard run to achieve the halftime advantage. East Carolina marched 71 yards in 12 plays in the fourth quarter to close the gap to $27-25$ to set up Larkins' 45 -yard field goal

WE DEDICATE THE

Again, the difficult task of honoring an individual with the dedication of the yearbrook was undertaken by the 1981 staff. After the votes were cast, lengthy discussion followed and after hours of deliberation, the staff announced with great pride and pleasure at the Honors & Awards ceremonies its decision. Recognized was an individual who has served Lees-McRae College for twelve years . . . an instructor who is always available to the students . . . has a warm smile and friendly greeting for all . . . serves as sponsor of the Roadrunners Club and is involved in student activities and who demonstrates the true meaning of a college and faculty that care . . . Mr. Glen Johnson of the Division of Natural & Theoretical Sciences.

Principals in Lees-McRae College commencement exercises (I-r): Mr. William E. Cochran, Jr., President, Alumni Association; Dr. Lawson Tate, who administered the Professional Oath for Medical Secretaries; Mr. O'dell Smith, Chairman of the Division of Social Sciences; Mr. James A. Stonesifer, Vice President for Academic Affairs; Congressman James T. Broyhill; and Dr. H.C. Evans, Jr., President.

LMC OBSERVES FIFTY-SECOND COMMENCEMENT

Lees-McRae College President H.C. Evans, Jr. and Vice President for Academic Affairs James A. Stonesifer conferred one hundred twenty-four degrees upon the 1982 Graduating Class. Mrs. Dorothy Barnard, Moderator, The General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States, delivered the morning address at the 11:00 a.m. service. Congressman James T. Broyhill, 10th District, North Carolina, addressed the graduates at the 2:00 p.m. ceremony.

Mrs. Barnard challenged the graduates to hold on to the characteristics of children - eagerness, curiosity, willingness to learn, flexibility, openness, searching, good spirit, enthusiasm, imagination.
"As a child one of the things you learn from your parents is some of their hopes and dreams. Some time ago our youngest daughter decided she didn't want to go to school and so 1 realized that was a major decision on her part since she was only twelve, and I thought we had better go to a counselor. We did and one of the things the counselor told us and told her. 'You have known since you were six years old what your mother and father hope and dream. The only thing we are talking about now is what you are going to do about it.' I wonder sometimes how many of us, as the children of God, know what the hopes and dreams are of our Father, the heavenly Father. For I think that is one of the things a child needs to know."

She pointed out that after much thought and study men came to the conclusion that "God, the Spirit, was a loving God - one that wanted to give expression to that kind of loving relationship and therefore created a world in which you and 1 could be related to each other and to this amazing creation where we find ourselves. And so He created this amazing place.
"A place that was to be known by SHALOM - the peace, the wholeness and the harmony and the interrelatedness and the love and the caring and compassion and the opportunity for all peoples all around this world.
"If we would be children of God we would be the ones who worked toward that peace, toward that understanding of shalom, toward that new day and that kingdom on earth. We who are Christians believe in the one who came as a baby, Jesus; we sometimes call Him Emmanuel which means 'God With Us' - but lots of times we call Him the Prince of Peace.

" 1 think sometimes we've thought that peace was just an ab. sence of anxiety inside us. Or, that peace was the absence of warfare in the world. I want you to think about peace as much bigger than that - for the shalom of God involves all of creation. It involves this creation around us. It involves justice, it involves relationsips of all the people on earth.

"For as children of God you know what the dream is of the Father - that, indeed, it should be whole.
"Another thing children have is imagination. We're told that imagination is the beginning of compassion for unless you can imagine what it's like to be in someone else's place you can't really feel with them. You can't really feel it in your heart.
"If you can and if you can feel compassion, then that is the beginning of justice for when you can feel what it's like far away then you can begin to care what happens in Korea, or Zaire, or El Salvador, or Fiji. Then you can begin to care what happens in the whole world for all the children of God.
"Another thing about imagination is that we are the only creatures given that gift - the only ones on the face of this earth that have the ability to envision and imagine what it might be. For it might be a different enemy. We might envision a new future. We might just be able to bring peace to this world.
"For that's the calling of people like you and me. If we are to be the children of God, we know the dream of the Father for that wholeness. We have the imaginations to feel with the hurts in the world, and we also have the ability to imagine a new future, to think what it might be and to work toward it. The world today is too big for easy answers and too complex. It needs all the work of all the people. It's not something one person is going to come with an answer for. You and I send Christmas cards to each other in memory of this kind of a dream - with the lion and the lamb laying down together. It's the dream of a new order, of a new kind of life. You are going to be called upon to imagine what that could be and to work toward it.
"You and I live in a time of kyros when humanity stands on the border of a promised time, when God's people are summoned to obedience and faithfulness to preserve God's creation - to stand with the poor and oppressed everywhere, to stand together as the people of the earth, when with confession and humility we repent of our blindness to the division in our own hearts and in our own land, our obsession with money, our pursuit of power, our irrational belief in security through weaponry and our worship of secular gods. We are called to be obedient to Jesus Christ, the Prince of Peace, who loved the whole world and who invites us to be the stewards of earth and servants of His people, to be co-workers in the new creation."

Mrs. Dorothy Barnard, Moderator, The General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States.

Mrs. Barnard concluded, "Let us be peacemakers. Let us be called the children of God speaking boldly with moral conviction to the nation and the world building with God's grace a new moral order in world community and acting now for world peace - an enterprise of justice, an outcome of love. You get involved and you imagine new endings. For you and I have this moment in our life and this is our time and we are called. Come and join me in this amazing opportunity to be really the children of God, to work for peace and shalom in our world."

President H.C. Evans, Jr

Congressman James T. Broyhill, 10th District, North Carolina, who addressed the graduates at the afternoon ceremony.

Congressman Broyhill urged the students in become involved in politics and stressed the importance of each individual and pointed out the many ways one person can make a difference in our system.
"Despite our problems, the American system remains the economic wonder of the world. When we stop to consider that this country is only 200 years old, it makes our history and the progress we have made even more remarkable.
"Our economy has had its ups and downs but our economic system has brought more relative prosperity to more people than any other nation in the history of the world. Most important of all, the system provides an opportunity for you to become anything you want to be. Of course you have to be willing to work and, in some cases, sacrifice for those goals that you think are important. But remember this - there are many people out there who will help you along the way and I am sure you have already witnessed that fact here in this school.
Oftentimes we criticize our government but we often fail to remember that there are various government programs that have been set up to help people. For example, the Federal Government has funded a number of programs when you were coming along in elementary and secondary schools to help increase the quality of education. It has also aided many of you in financing or at least helping to finance your college education.
"In the last few weeks we have had a lot of publicity about the so-called cutbacks in federal aid to higher education. Despite the publicity to the contrary, there is going to be more money spent this year on student loans and grants than at any point in our history. The President is proposing to spend $$ 6.3$ billion on higher education next year and I expect that if past experience is any guide that Congress is likely to add funds to that rather steep amount.
"Inflation, of course, has been the biggest factor in the rapidly increasing costs of getting an education. This means that your parents have had to pay more to further your education each year.
"In this big debate that is going on in Washington now there are those who are saying that the government has its priorities wrong. There are those who are saying that we are paying too much attention to defense needs and not enough to social programs. Twenty-five years ago our defense program received 58 percent of the federal budget while the social programs received only 24 percent. During the current fiscal year, spending for social programs received 47 percent of the budget while defense's share was 26 percent. In other words, we have dramatically reversed the priorities of government in the past couple of decades.
"I might leave you with another set of statistics to illustrate the thought that your government does continue to care for people. After the so-called budget cuts that have been made some 20 million people will be receiving food stamps each month and that's four million more than received them eight years ago. The President is proposing next year to spend $$ 75$ billion on Medicare and Medicaid to help the programs. Also he is proposing to subsidize 90 milllion meals per day in the United States.
"What we are debating in Washington is what kind of changes might be ahead for us as Americans. I believe that constructive change can take place as long as we look at our problems rationally and take rational steps to make necessary changes. I want to challenge you to become a part of these important changes. Your talents, your enthusiasm, and, yes, your idealism, these are needed in our political system. I have been disappointed in the last few years to find that far too few young people have gotten involved in government and the political system. All I am asking you to do is to resolve that you are going to give some of your time to strenghtening the political system in this country.

"There are just too many people of all ages who sit at home and criticize our leaders. There are too many Americans who do not even bother to register and then vote. There are too many Americans who do not bother to volunteer their time and their talents. There are too many Americans who refuse to get involved in the causes and the candidates they believe in."
He stressed the importance of one vote and the difference it can make. One vote gave Oliver Cromwell control over England in 1645; one vote brought Texas into the Union in 1845; one vote saved President Andrew Johnson from impeachment in the Senate in 1868; one vote gave Adolph Hitler control of the German Nazi Party in 1923, to cite a few examples.
"Obviously, the vote is often critical in determining which course of action a nation or a people will choose.
"One person can make a difference in a variety of ways - one person can make the difference between literacy or continued illiteracy for an adult who cannot read; one person can make the difference between loneliness or companionship for some of our neighbors; one person can make the difference between wholesomeness or delinquency for a young boy or a young girl.
"I am often fond of quoting Andrew Jackson who said, 'One person, with conviction, makes a majority' I'd like to amend that to say, 'One person, with conviction, and with the energy to work for what he believes in, can make the difference.' "

LMC STUDENT RECEIVES INTERNATIONAL AWARD

C.A. Dillon, Jr., District Governor of the Carolinas District of Kiwanis International, spoke to the students in a special college program.

Dillon presented Allen Hunsucker with the highest award given by Kiwanis International, the Robert P. Connelly Medal, and presented the Governor's Award for Heroism to Tom Owen. This is the first time the Carolinas District of Kiwanis International has presented the District Governor's Award for Heroism.

Both Hunsucker and Owen were recognized for saving the life of classmate Mark Hicks. Hicks lost his footing and fell from atop Elk River Falls. His roommate, Hunsucker dived from the top of the 60 -foot Elk Falls to its base, while Tom Owens, a close friend of both Mark and Allen, came to the rescue by jumping from the top of the falls.
Hicks, at this time, was painfully treading water and the first-aid knowledge of Hunsucker and Owens resulted in the rescue of Hicks. After pulling Hicks to shore both men were credited with notifying the Rescue Squad and making Hicks as comfortable as possible until they arrived

Hunsucker, using first-aid knowledge, and Owen, calling on the experience gained in his Red Cross Advanced First Aid and Emer gency Care, were responsible for saving Mark's life.

Hunsucker is the third person in North Carolina to receive the Kiwanis International's highest award for bravery, the Robert P. Connelly Medal. The Governor's Award for Heroism is the highest award given on a district basis by Kiwanis and Owen is the first recipient.

C.A. Dillon, Governor, Carolinas District, Kiwanis International, presented the coveted Robert P. Connelly Medal to Allen Hunsucker.
